“ Mike I will miss you greatly. You were definitely a big brother to me and I appreciate that , I could bounce anything off of you and You gave great advice without judgement. You walked through places as a Vietnam vet. that no man or woman should have to walk. You did this with love for the United States of America. When you told me you were ready and I knew you were. I know you are in the arms of love with no sickness or pain. I love you big brother !

“ Mike was a part of my life as far back as I can remember. Another chapter has closed for me--a piece of my childhood. I am saddened that he has left us, but I know he is in a better place. If it weren't for him, I may not be here today because he helped introduce my parents--God was guiding him with that small, still voice to coordinate that union. Growing up, I have so many memories of Mike's presence and he imparted bits of wisdom to me along the way. I may have ignored some of what he said at the time, but I've realized, he was giving me his "life experience" and giving loving advice. As I've gotten older, I haven't seen him as much. However, I always knew if I needed anything, he would be there for me. He talked to me a long time after my dad passed and we reminisced a lot of the times he spent during their years together. I'm sure they caused both set of parents a few grey hairs with their teenage antics, but just being normal boys. Mike would come in the door with the ingredients for me to make fudge or he brought us Dilly bars from Dairy Queen. He participated in many of my birthday celebrations. Once, he taught me how to follow the white lines on the road when driving at night and he said that his class at Wheeler helped implement those lines. He had a lot of good laughs while I learned to drive and I probably caused him to go grey also. I will not forget seeing him few years ago at a restaurant. I went over and sat down next to him and surprised him. I will always remember Mike when I see a dilly bar or the Marshmallow container; among other things that bring back memories of times spent with him. Rest in beautiful peace, Mike. Your time on earth is done. Now, you can enjoy your rewards! Love, Becky Williams Wilson (as you used to say "one of your kids")

“ Mike was such a good Christian man. He believed in witnessing for God so that others might also accept Jesus. He was a dedicated man, husband, father, grandfather, and great grandfather. He was a war hero that served during the Vietnam war. Thank you, for treating my sister like a queen and for your service to our country. You will be greatly missed here on earth. Shine on in Heaven, my friend.

“ Mike introduced me to my husband and me when I was seventeen years old. My husband passed away two years ago so I am sure Mike & my husband are having a great time in heaven. We were friends for years and it breaks my heart to know he's gone, but am glad he is in a better place. No more suffering. Prayers for all of his family. Each day brings us closer to seeing him again.
